Hats in the Ring. As has frequently been the rule, Republican and Democratic political slates were still taking shape within 24 hours of this Thursday's deadline. One right-about-face made the biggest news: Mayor P. MacKay Sturges said that as recently as last Thursday, he had told the Republican Club again that he would not be a candidate, but a resolution passed by the organization had—by Tuesday—persuaded him to stand for reelection.

Two incumbent councilmen, Professor Alfred E. Sorenson and Professor emeritus J. Dayton Voorhees, will run on the Republican ticket with Mayor Sturges. The former has served one three-year term, while Mr. Voorhees is completing 15 years on the governing body.

Joseph Fishberg, Trenton attorney, reported that in addition to the proceeds of the sale, the creditors (whom he represents as accounts receivable, estimated at between $10,000 and $12,000.

The Republican slate includes a newcomer to the elective process in the borough. Harry B. Warren, tax assessor for more than two decades, has announced his decision to retire from the office. The G.O.P. selection to succeed him will he his nephew, Edward G. Warren of Snowden Lane who is associated with the Titus Motor Co.

The incumbent mayor in Princeton Township is also the Republican choice for a new term. He is Dr. John H. Wallace, Jr., whose sixth year on the governing body ends in December, Dr. Wallace was elected mayor last January by his four follows:

Listed as possibilities in the Township by the Democrats were Theodore T. Tams, Jr., Henry F. Dyer, Ansley J. Coale, James F. Perkins and David A. Winans. The party also indicated that it planned to contest the borough election for tax assessor and the township race for collector. However, there was reason to believe that neither party would enthat neither party would engage in a primary contest—a situation in sharp contrast to the township's occasionally stormy post-war political history.

Borough Council Report. Legislation which will enable owners of shigle-family dwellings to convert into martments will be given a public hearing in Borough Hall Thesday, April 12. It was introduced at the March council meeting list Tuesday, on completion of what Mayor Slurges called "the most intensive study over a period the just five years that any project involving the borough has received."

Birthday. The current issue marks the beginning of Town Toncs' tenth year. The first issue (which nominated Princeton area residents who had returned from service as Men and Women of the Week) was published March 11, 1946.

Because the Princeton community has grown sleadily in the post-war decade, so have many at its widely-diverse enterprises. In Town Topics' case, its circulation reflects both the near-phenomenal population increase and expanded coverage of areas not originally reached.

The initial circulation ligure was 3,400, a total that nine years ago permitted delivery to every address in Princeton Borough and Township. In the intervening time, coverage has been extended to part or all of eight near-by communities, with Lawrenceville the most recent addition. The increase to the current circulation of 8,146 copies weekly is thus a growth of 1400.

In size, Iao, Tawn Torics no more resembles its early issues than does the Princetan of today mirror the community before the Stanworth and Harrison Street housing developments were blueprinted; Dillan Gymnasium and the Firestone Library were built; or hundreds of other homes, scores of streets and developments such as the Shapping Center came into actuality. The first issue of March, 1946, carried a sports column that ran exactly five inches; this week's, ten times that length, runs to some 2,500 words. Many another Town Toucs column (shopping tips, music, books, church news) came into heing in later years, otten as readers suggested them.

Running to 28 pages, the issue that begins the tenth year has approximately ten times as much news, culturial comment and advertising as the original venture. Whereas a part-time staff of two handled everything involved in publishing an issue nine years ago, now II men and women devote part or full-time to the weekly underlaking.

For the degree of community-wide interest and support that has permitted Town Toucs to follow such a trend, its editors and its staff are deeply grateful.

Student Canteen to Open. A high school canteen, long-needed by the young people of the Princeton area, will be opened Saturday night at 8 p.m. A number of civic groups have joined with students of the community to establish this project.

An advisory board consisting of representatives from the Y M C A. Y W C A. PTA's and Junior Chamber of Commerce has been set up to supervise the canteen. Members of this committee are Samuel Bahadurian, Mrs. Pearl Bates, Mrs. John Crlscitiello, Mrs. William Dix, George Gnrisic, Mrs. Arthur S. Jensen, Mrs. Joel Johnson, Edwin Kimble, Gordon G. Sikes, Mrs. Ruby Sherr and Thomas Turner.

Student committees for location, publicity, program, membership, equipment and losts have been formed with the adults as advisors. The young people on these committees constitute a Canteen Council.

After investlgating the available facilities for such a project, the students decided upon the "Y" huilding, Witherspoon and Green Streets, as a suitable site. This structure offers a sizeable dance hall, a game room and a lounge.

Membership in the cauteen will be available to students in grades nine through 12 in Princeton schools. Other teenagers between the ages of 16 and 18 may apply to the Canteen Council for mem-bership.

Second Hospital Fete. The Women's Auxiliary of Princeton Hospital will hold its second annual Hospital Fete on Saturday June 4. The new location for the event will be on the grounds of Palmer Stadium.

Mrs. Harry F. Olson of 71 Palmer Square West has been appointed general chairman and plans are now under way for a repeat of last year's fete, which raised in the neighborhood of $8,000 for the hospital. Ten subcommittees are being selected to manage the committy project.

Among the activities scheduled in advance of the fete will be the Hole-In-One Contest which proved popular last year despite heavy rains. The contest will be held on Saturday, April 30, and Sunday, May 1, on the practice field of the Springdale Golf Club, Mr. and Mrs. Harrison S. Fruker and Mr. and Mrs. Daniel D. Dickey will be in charge of arrangments and prizes for the contest.

Proceeds from all activities connected with the fete will be turned over for use in the development of "Merwick", former residence of Bishop Paul Matthews, which has been presented to the hospital for use as a nursing home for the chronically ill and the aged. and the aged.

Richards' Photos on Exhibit. A series of photographs taken by Alan W. Richards, ubiquitous photographer, is heing exhibited by Bamberger's-Princeton. The exhibition, located in the lounge on the second floor of Bam's, will continue through next weekend. More than 70 photographs in three groupings are included. The main group includes autographed pictures of personalities such as President Eisenhower, Dr. Einstein, former Presidents Truman and Hoover, and many others, as well as Princeton figures.

Mr. Richards' second group is a series of pictures taken on an airplane trip from New York to London, including views of the take-off, landing, coastlines, sea and sky in transit.

His story of "A Day in the Local Animal Hospital" is included in the third group. The series includes pictures from 'the time a dog is brought into a modern animal hospital through the stages of diagnosis and surgery.

AL SALE

CDAY, MARCH 19

ONE FULL WEEK

Our policy of buying our carpeting in full rolls rather than the higher cost of buying cut order enables us to sell you year around under the other store prices.

Because of our low prices, our volume of business during the year is tremendous — hundreds of full rolls of carpet are purchased each year. From these purchases come these wonderful buys of roll ends in varied sizes, part of which are listed below.

The same holds true in our Furniture and Bedding, it's volume huying that saves you money."

vow are the most exciting values you have ever found. And remember—

It's a plastic Velon by Firestone that's made with an adhesive back or maybe Velon is the adhesive, come to think of it anyhow, you buy it in a fiveyard roll, 18 inches wide and stick it, witbout dampening, on wall, screen, headbhand of a bed, old wastebaskets, or the top of an old table. It comes in several marbelized cotors, including black and white, or wood grams like mahogany, butch or silver grey.

It feels smooth to the touch and can be wiped clean with in elbow grease. We found it at Urken's now olfers Scotts lawn seed and Scotts various killers and fertilizers, such as Weed and Feed, Scuttland the like.

the current Theatie Intime version of the comedy gives it wonderful life on the stage.

The production is well designed for the abilities of the University group, and the execution is delightful. The show may be seen nightly through this Saturday evening at Murray Theatre on the campus. Tickets are on sale at the hox office.

Beaumont and Fletcher had themselves a fine time in "The Knight of the Burning Pestle," and the 344-year old work apparently has enough comedy to please any audience, while providing a special treat for those who are familiar with the Elizabethan stage.

"Moondog," "the world's most unusual percussionist" is a special attraction of the concert. His ndvance billing includes the Indowing information:

"The Moon," as be's referred to in jazz circles, has invented tanlastic percussion and string-percussion instruments, one of which is called the 'OOOOOO.

"In appearance, he resembles one of the Prophets of old-tall, bearded with a mane falling to his shoulders dressed in cussock and hood with goatskin sandals. The Moon' is really out of this world—perhaps somewhere near the legendary Cloud 7 where dwells Dave Brubeck."

THE PLAYHOUSE

Battle Cry (Mar, 10-15), through a change in the program, is here for a week. The story, taken from the hest-seller, deals with the production of a top-notch Marlne Corps unit, but the picture is not fully a service film, since much of the foolage is devoted to the romantic successes,

Good Food Means Good Cheer. . .

One of the pleasantest aspects of life in this world of ours is that one's entire outlook can be happily affected by delicious dining. The "inner man," being well cared for, sees to it that his pleasure is reflected in your attitude toward the day's duties.

The middle of the day is just the time for entering to him. Our luncheon menu offers a tempting variety of dishes specially prepared for your enjoyment

Come be our guest today, and often, for good cheer means good living

A score of Princetonians have hought a share in the Broadway-bound play, "Inberit the Wind," the drama recreating the fairous Dayton, Tenn., evolution trial of 1925. With Paul Minni in the leading role, the Jerome Lawrence-Robert E, Lee play opens in Philodelphia March 31 and in New York three weeks later. Organized by John F, Becker of the Somerville Road, an independent producer in various media, the group is known as "The Commuting and Bestelent Angels of Princeton, N.J." Financial backing of other therefrical ventures which its members vote "most likely to specced" is planned during the coming months.

In addition to Mr, Becker, members are John Gaston, Ralph Rotnem, Blackwell Smith, Benjamin Mangham, Walker Stevenson, Jr., Robert Webb, Mrs. II, C, Sturhahn, Mrs. Emery Green, Mrs. C, Righter Smith, Mrs. Herbert Hall, Henry Ross, Donald Stuart, Jr., Mrs. Selma Weber, John Capsis, Charles Freetricks, Peter Lauck, Kermit Roland, Andre Yokama, Mrs. Gordon Knox, Elias Baker, William Snow, Wilder Hohson and Hyman Battle.

failures and just plain experi-ences of various men. Therefore your appreciation of the film will depend largely on what you think of the characters porafink of trayed.

The film is well photographed in CinemaScepe and Warner-Color. Van Heffin, as usual, gives a good performance (as the lender-hearted martinel major), as do Aldo Ray, James Whitmore, Raymond Massey, Nancy Olson. Mona Freeman, Dorothy Malone, Anne Frencis and others in the Francis and others in the cast. The long film will be -- Continued on Page 19

chould go ouickly to the Mercer Floor Sanding Company, whose showrooms face the south pai king lot at the Stepping Center. Chunles Williams, owner of Mercer, knows more about floors than you rnought there was to know about floors, and he will give you advice you'll be glad to bave.

Mercer is a dealer for Armstrong, Amneo and other top flooring companies, and as a dealer, carries all the latest in commercial patterns, like the asphalt tile mode to look exactly like cork, for example; the newest spatter in linoleums, or such substances as Caralon, a vinyl tile that can be used freely in your kitchen because it will not be disturbed by grease, as rubber is.

Mo t remarkable of all these old and new products to our way of thinking, is a vinyl plastic-called Viertex. You put it on your wall like wallpaper (costs about the same as good wallpaper), and it wears like the centuries, Spill ink on it and wipe it off, scratch it and it won't scratch or rip, wipe fingerprints off with a damp cloth.

You can even sew it for rumpus room chairs. You may put it over stucco, as they have in the Shopping Center store, over wallboard or pluster. There are about 90 different colors and styles for you to choose from, some plain, some textured.

The textured ones are all deeply third dimensional: there is one that closely resembles stralled plywood, and even when you feel if you aren't quile sure that it isn't wood. Others are made to look like grass cloth, various liveedy mixes and bamboo patterns.

Each texture comes in several colors, many of them tawny or wood-hued, as becomes a good stalk of bamboo. If you tire of a covering after a period of years—an unlikely possibility, it seems to us—you can paint over it. What we have said ought to give you many ideas, but if yon would like more. Mercer plans to have a decorator in the store each Thursday afternoon and evening and each Friday evening to help you plan.

There are many departments in this small store. Mercer will rent floor waxers and sanders, in sizes ranging from the small house size to the 22-inch commercial kind. Maintenance materials include Veritone, a wax developed by Mr. Williams blimself and manufactued especially for Mercer.

The men who work for Mercer have spent some 15 years in Trenton and Princeton in the maintenance of floor materials. They will provide a complete jaultorial service for schools, offices and homes, if you like. For offices and schools they can cut down on cost as much or 40% in many cases. If you'd like to see what they can do in a home, they will give you a free demonstration.

The Case of the Pink Garbage. The Case of the Pink Garbage. We glunced in the window of Farr's the other day, took mental note of a new pink garbage can in the window, walked on a short distance and suddenly stopped—a PINK garbage can! We walked back quickly for another look and found not only garbage can but bread box and canister set, all coyly blushing pink, We'd heard about this in New York stores, but Princeton!

about Inis in New York stores, but Princeton!

Pink, of course, is 1955 for kilchens and how can you cook in one that isn't? This new pink set is stordy metal, four canisters for $4.95, step-on can for about $7.98, depending on lining, and head box $5.98. Comes in yellow and black, too.

Also at 138 Nassau you may buy "Stix," the adhesive plastle. And a Red Apple measure, a flexible three-foot steel lape that snaps back into the apple, just like a worm. Its bottom is magnetized—we tested it on a hobby pln and it worked.

Gordex makes tools, the long and the short of them. Long, like a leaf take ($1.69), a hoe t$1.98), a cultivator, turf edger, fork, prong hoe, and a small floral take, among others. Short, like a trowel, a small rake and a cultismade.

PRINCETON TELEVISION
Professor Rubert N. Alyea, one of the University's permanent lecture favorites, will present this Sunday's program in the "Princeton '55" television series.
Dr. Alyea will treat "Atomic Energy Weapon for Peace" at 1 p.m. over WRCA-TV, Channel

The program by Dr. Alyea, a member of the chemistry department, will be seen in place of the previously-announced program on "World Population Problems" by Dr. Frank Notestein.

Dr. Stephen K. Bailey provided an Interesting discussion of "The Lobhyist" this past Sunday, covering his subject, about which many people have opinions and few facts, in an informative fashion. Dr. Bailey's presentation was unusually smooth and his words well-chosen.

The program, by presenting a mimber of different versions of the lobhyist and a Congressman, made good use of the television medium (provided the audience didn't take the wrong versions as factual). The map and cartoons provided Dr. Bailey were impossible, and somebody ought to make a few more demands on NBC's production staff,

Sports in Princeton

Sounds of Spring. In the old ROTC riding hall between Washington Road and Palmer Stadium, Princeton's baseball squad is hammerling away at the offerlings of a pitchling machine. Coach Eddie Donovan is hopeful that while the battery candidates are throwing in the gym, the hitters will galn practice that will raise Tiger batting averages this spring.

Tiger batting averages this spring.
On nearby Poe Field, Ferris Thomsen's lacrosse squad is scrimmaging in preparation for the forthcoming season, and on Lake Carnegie, Dutch Schoch's navy has unlimbered its oars, slipped the shells into the water and the coxwain's bark is again echoed by the bordering woodlands.

The indoor season, climaxed by a final hectic week (see below), has finished its activity here. Championship events in swimming, fencing and wrestling are on the schedule at New Haven, New York and Ithaca, respectively. After that, a ten-day break and, with or without warmer temperatures, the spring season.

Stretch Run. Princeton's hasketball team began its annual and seemingly inevitable last-ditch drive for the lay title last Wednesduy night in New York. For hetter than half the game, it concerns that the Ticers might appeared that the Tigers might upend Columbia on its own court, but the Llons staged a rally in the final ten minutes that gave them a 65-58 triumph going away.

A 42% shooting average in the first half, paced by Bud Haabestad's 17 points, gave Princeton a 35-31 advantage. This was increased to eight points with 12 minutes to 20, but the Orange and Black chose not to slow its pace. When its accuracy fell off sharply (to a mengre 19% for the second half). sharply (to a meagre 19% for the second half). Columbia rebounding improved markedly to give the Lions steady possession and sharp-shooting Chet Forte led them to victory.

Penn Whacked. A visibly jittery Pennsylvanla team, which had the lvy title virtually wrapped up three weeks ago with a two-game lead in a 14-game schedule, felt more pressure than it could withstand Saturday night in Dillon Gym. The Quakers had a brief lead (15-12 at 7:55 of the first half) and trailed by only 30-27 at the intermission, but the final 20 minutes saw them fade badly.

In contrast to the Columbia game, in which they had shot as quickly as If the professional 24-second rule was in force, the Tigers played possession ball against Penn. They set up thelr plays slowly, made their shots count when they broke through for frequent layups and then watched the losers miss easy baskets and pass wildly as the pressure began to tell.

Blg Don Davidson had a great second half, accounting for 14 points, eight of them in the first six minutes, to help break the game open. As he had in the first period, he led off with a push shot from the foul circle and a minute later, converted two fouls.

Penn Eliminated. Having lost all nine of its football games last fall, Pennsylvania will not soon forget the form reversal its basketball team experienced during the past three months. The Quakers, who had been considered a shoo-in for Ivy honors as late as mid-February, lost twice to Columbia and once to Princeton in the final ten days of the campaign to suffer elimination from a race virtually everyone but their two opponents had considered already won.

Tigers Gain Playoff, The opener of the inprecedented twin bill, which drew 3,000 to the gym and was seen by thousands more on was seen by thousands more on television, was marked by a 58-39 Princeton victory over Brown that created a three-way deadlock for first place. The outcome set up the ninth playoff in Ivy basketball history, sending the Tigers against Columbia on Rutgers' neutral court at New Brunswick Wednesday night. Prior to that encounter, the Tigers had been in seven playoffs, winning only twice (1922 and 1932.)

Brown jammed the middle with

Brown jammed the middle with its zone defense in the opening minutes, the Tigers finding it tough going and trailing on a couple of occasions before they broke away. With ten minutes gone, only six field goals had heen made, the Nassau quintet holding a 14-9 advantage.

At 6:50, a set shot by the visitors' Bob Popp brought them even at 20-all, but the Tigers then took charge. Haabestad converted a foul, John DeVoe tossed in a layup on a follow shot and Davidson racked up a pair of his increasingly accurate push shots. When Dick Butt was fouled at 19:47 and converted both attempts, Princeton left the floor with a 29-21 margin.

Brown's inaccuracy on both floor shots and fouls kept the pressure off the Orange and Black in the second half. The visitors, whom Caopy Cappon's foreshad barely beaten last month at Previdence by two points, could make but 27% of their field could be could b goal attempts and only half (15 Continued on Page 24 DR. out of 30) of their fouls. The Tigers were only a shade better from the floor with a 28% average but were in fine form on free throws, netting 28 out of 36.

John Easton fouled out at 10:26, but big Tom Dailey came in to help control the boards and promptly dropped a one-hander that gave Princeton a 21-point margin (50-29.) Davidson was high man with 19 as the Tigers pulled their league record up to 10 and 4 to get a shot at their third by title in live years.

Fine Season on ice. Princeton's hockey team lost the weekend headlines to the basketball scramble, but its followers will not soon forget the Tigers' very worthwhile achievements of the past season. After having finished in last place a year ago, the squad reported in November with only two seniors among its personnel, ereating a major problem of inexperience. Three months later, it had attained a second-place tie with Brown, tralling only Harvard, which has one of the past decade.

Although compiling a record that was just a shade over .500 (9-8-1), the team almost invariably played better hockey than it might have been expected to produce—a true crowd-pleasing quality in any sport. Exceptions were a couple of games before Christmas and the loss to American International, which came when the squad had not heen together as a unit for two weeks because of examinations.

Harvard won its second game of the season from the Tigers at the Boston Garden before the season finale here against Dartmouth. The great Bill Cleary scored four times, three of his goals coming without an assist, while Peter Gilette and Kim Townsend counted for the losers in the 5-2 affair.

Saturday's session against the Indians was not productive of unusually good hockey but it was a slam-bang, high-scoring affair that the near sell-out Junior Prom crowd enjoyed hugely. The Tigers won an II-7 victory, running in front all the way and picking up the two points that deadlocked them with Brown in the final standings.

Captain George Hackl and George Seragg each achieved the unusual, scoring three goals apiece in the contest. It was just as well that the Tigers found Gordke Russell of the Indians relatively easy to beat, for they lost their regular net-minder, Bill Van Alstyne, within the first five minutes. He was clipped on the forehead by a hard, screened shot and had to leave action, the gash requiring ten stitches loclose it.

Sophomore Dave Robinson took over and got further training for next year. Again he gave evidence of potential ability, but showed that he still has plenty to learn.

PHS Wins Tourney Opener. Princeton High School's baskethall team made good use of accurately placed shots to defeat Somerville, 66-60, last week in the first round of the New Jersey State Interscholastic Athlelic Association tournament. Connecting with 50% of their shots, the Little Tigers jumped off to a 20-5 tirst-quarter edge in the triumph at the Rutgers University gym.

Marvin Trotman, Princeton's high scoring forward, led the PHS offense with 24 tallies. Dick Wood and Lee Ammerman also scored in double figures for the Blue and White with 20 and 14 points, respectively.

Princeton High went into tour-ney play with a record of nine victories and nine defeats. The Somerville Pioneers had won seven and lost 12.

In the 18 season games, Trot-man had netted 438 markers for an average of 24.6 points per game. The Little Tigers next tournament contest is with South River in the New Brunswick High gym Thursday at 7:30 pm.

is planning a two-day "medieval festival" next Thursday and Friday to replace the annual Spring Field Day. The area used in other years will be unavailable this spring because of building activities for the expanded school plant.

A hasketball game will be slaged Thursday between the "Ancient Scholars" (faculty members) and the "Youthful Knights" (boys of the senior class.) Playing for the "Ancients" will be Joseph V. Drulis, Henry Drewry, Joseph Jingoli, Simeon Moss, Anthony Borzak, Glen Underwood, Thomas Hilbish, Harry Zoll and Altred Seitz.

Non-members of the varsity basketball team, selected by their home-rooms as the "Knights," include Diek Bergesen, Frank Cox, Alfred Leonl, Roger O'Kane, Robert Zinsman, Lane Smith and Ralph Grove.

A dance Friday night at 8 will conclude the program. Committee chairmen are Ronald Trossback, Sandra Northeross, Melanie McGilvra, George Toole, Peggy Dixon, James Thompson, Marie Siebert, Allcia Wallis, Karen Smith and Jeannette Thompson.

Other 'Sports. Roger Campbell defended his national intercollegiale squash title successfully turning back Harvard's Ben Heckscher in five games in the final round. His victory at Annapolis left him unbeaten throughout the season. Yale's swimmers walloped Princeton, 68 to 16, taking all ten first places at New Haven. The Tigers also lost to Pennsylvania in wrestling, 17-10, but won a pair of feneing matches last week to close out that sport with an 8-3 record.
